Test Audience	Test	What I did	Expected outcome	Actual outcome	Completed
General User	Users Can Search for products	I Used the search bar to search for a bag	All products that fall under the category bag will show up	All the products that fall uder bags on the showed up.	x
General User	Users Can browse Products by Catergories	I used the Navigation bar to selected the caterogory	It will show the 4 dresses that are avaliable on the site	The 4 dresses on the site showed up	x
General User	Users Can Filter products	I used the filter section to the top right of the products to select how I wanted to filter the products. I tried each filter individualy	The Proucts will change in order to represent what fsort by filter has been selected. E.g Low to high will show the products in order from the lowest price to the highest price	The products change to the correct order based on the sort by filter selected	x
General User	Users Can view individual products	I Went onto the product page for dresses and then clicked on the product that I wanted to view	This will pull up the product details page where it will show the Name, price description, image rating of the product along with the size and quantity options and the add to bag button	When clicked on the product it showed the Name, price description , image, rating of the product along with the size and quantity options and the add to bag button	x
General User	Users Can Add products to bag	I went to a product and then clicked on the add to bag button	I expected a toast to come up under that bag that shows a message to say that the item and its size has been added to my bag. Along with ti showing me my current bag	I received a success message in the toast tellign me my item and size has been added to my bag along with a bag preview that showes the items currently in my bag.	x
General User	Users Can remove products from bag	I added a product to my bag, Then went to view the bag, found the product I no longer wanted and then deleted the product from my bag	I expect the page to refresh and once it has the removed product to be no longer in the bag and the Total to reflect the removal of the product	When I removed the item the page did a refresh and the product was no longer in my bag and my overall total had changed by the correct amount	x

General User	users Can increase the quanity of Products in the bag	I added a product to my bag and then went to view the bag, once there I selected the products quantity I wanted to change and increased it by 2	I expect the page to refresh and once it had the quantity of the selected product to have increased along with the total necxt to it and the overall bag total	The quanity in the box and the item total price had increased to reflected the new quantity and total price	x
General User	users Can decrease the quanity of Products in the bag	I added a product to my bag and then went to view the bag, once there I selected the products quantity I wanted to change and decreased it by 2	I expect the page to refresh and once it had the quantity of the selected product to have decreased along with the total necxt to it and the overall bag total	The quanity in the box and the item total price had decreased to reflected the new quantity and total price	x
General User	Users Can select a size	I navigated to a product and selected a size from the size	I expected the sizes dropdown to show the selected size	The size dropdown showed the new selected size	x
General User	Users Can select a quantity of a product	I navigated to a product and selected a quantity using the plus and minu button	I expected the quantity to go either up or down base on if I selected the plus or minus button	The quantity changed correctlywhen the quantity was incremented or decremented	x
General User	Users can add Mutiple sizes of the same product to bag	I navigated to a product added it to my bag and then added another of the same product and same size to my bag	I expected that the quantity in the bag will increase by the amount added ie. If 1 product was already in the bag and I added another identical product the quantity would change to 2	The quantity in the bag update the the new current total	x
General User	Users Can view bag	I added a 3 products to my bag and then clicked the bag icon in the top right corner	This will take me to a summary of whats in my bag the size and quantity of each product along with the totala nd shipping cost.	This took me to a summary of my bag where it shows all my slected products their size, quanity and price along with the shipping cost and overall total	x
General User	Users Can Check out	When on the bag page I clicked the secure checkout button at the bottom of the bag	I expect that this will take me to the secure checkout page where users can input delivery informatioa and card details	This took my to the secure check out that had a form to input my delivery information	x

General User	Users can add delivery information	When on the secure check out I can add in the deivery information for my order along with my email and name	I expected a form where I could input my delivery information and a drop down that lets me select my country	The form let me input the data and select a country from the drop down	x
	Users have the option to save delivery information if they sign in or register	When on the secure check out and not signed in I can sign in or register to save the my delivery information	I expect that when I click sign in it takes me to the sign in page and if I click register it takes me to the register page	It took mt to the relevant page sign in / register depending on what I clicked	x
General User	Users can Save delivery information to their account	On the secure check out page and signed in I clicked the option to save my delivery information	I expected that when I had processed th eorder the new delivery details would shwo in my profile	When I finished the check out process and went into the profiles page it shows the delivery inforation I just saved	x
General User	User can check out with a secure payment	after fillign out all the details and delivery information I added in the stripe test payment information(4242 4242 4242 4242 04/24 242 42424)	I expected that the screen would show a green background with a loading sign to show the the oayment is processign and then go to an order confirmation screen with the order details on and a toast in the right corner to ay the order was successful with the order numebr	The screen show a loading sign and then took me to the order conformation page and a toast in the right corner that confirmed the order number and that the order was successful.	x
General User	If incorrect information is provided or missing the payment will not process	I missed required information out of the delivery details section	I expected the payment not to process and the an message to appear on the section of the form that is missing poinint out that the field needs to be filled out	I got message that appeared on the screen sayign that the field I had missed needs to be filled out	x
General User	Users Can create an account	I navigated to the register page using the my account drop down and registered as a new user using correct information	I expected to receive an email once all the information had been filled out asking me to confirm my email addrres	I received an email shortly after that had an email conformation link on	x

General User	users can Confirm an account via email	I clicked on the link on the email which took me to an email conformation page. I then clicked confrim button and then back in	I expect that the link would take me to a new tab that showed my email address along with a confim button. This will then take me back to the sign in page	The link form the email opened in a new tab and the confirm button took me to the sign in page	x
General User	Users can sign in	I went to the log in page by using the account drop down where I entered my email and password and clicked sign in	I expected that it would allow me to sign in and then rediretc it to the home page	it allow me to sign in and then rediretc it to the home page	x
General User	Users Can sign up for newsletters	Upon loading up the site for the first time users will be greted by a pop up asking if they want want to sign up to the newsletter. I entered my name, email and DOB and clicked sign	I expected that the pop up would appear upon the first visit to the site. When the form is filled in and you clcik submit the pop up dissapears or you can click the cross in the top right corner	The pop up appeared when first on the sign and closed as expected when clicked submit or the cross button	x
General User	Users Can make changes to their delivery information in the profile section	When I was signed in I navigated to the profile section via the my account drop down. From there I made changes to the delivery information and	I exoected that once the information had been changed and saved the page would reload and the update information would show	When the information was changed and saved the page reloaded and the updated infromation was showing.	x
General User	Users Can view past orders	When on the my profile page I clicked on the order number for the order I wanted to view. This then brought up the order conformation page for that order	I expected that when I clicked on the order number I took me to a new age that showed all information regarding my previous order.	When I selected the order numebr I wanted to view it took me to a new page that showed my order conformation and all details regarding the order.	x
General User	Users Can submit a contact form	From the navgation drop down I selected contact us and this brought up a contact form where I entered my name contact email and my message	I expect that I can fill in the form and once the message has been submitted a success toast will appear in the top right corner and the form will reload blank	The form realoaded blank and a toast appeared in the top right corner sayign the the form has been successfully submitted	x

General User	Users Can view blog posts	From the nav bar I selected blog which took me to the websites blog section when I could see all the blog post	I expected that the blog page would load up and show all the current blog post the site has to offer	I could see all the blog post that they had and could select which one I wanted to look at	x
General User	Users Can comment on blog posts when signed in	After clicking on a blog post I scrolled down to the comment section on the bottom of the page where due to beign signed in I could lave a comment.	I expected that once the comment was submitted for a approval waiting message to appear acorss the comment section	I got the waiting for approval once my comment was submitted.	x
Admin	View the admin panel	I signed in as an admin which agve me full acces to the django admin back end where I could approve comments see	I expected that as a super user I would have full access to the admin panel	once signed in I had full access as expected	x
Admin	Add products fornt the front end	When signed in as an admin I clicke don my accoutn in the top right corner and selected product management from the drop down. This then gave me the option to add a new	I expected that once I had filled in all the relevant information and saved the product it should take me to the new products page showing all the information.	As expected once I had sumbitted the add product form I was taken to the new products page.	x
Admin	Edit products fornt the front end	When signed in as an admin I went to the product I wanted to edit and clicked the edit product button under the add	I expected that it will take to the user the product management edit product page where the product details can be changed	As expected it took me to the edit product page where I could make changes to the product information	x
Admin	Delete products fornt the front end	When signed in as admin I went to the product i wanted to delete and clicked the delet product button	I expected that once this button is click it will delete the product and take you back to the product landing page	Once the product was deleted it took me right back to the product landing page	x
Admin	Approve comemnts	In the django admin setting in the back end I went to comment and selected th ecomment I want to read where I could either approve or	I expected that once a comment has been approved by an admin it will show on the relevant post	As expected when the comment was approved it was visible to all on the relevant blog page	x

| Admin | Add blog Post | In the django admin setting in the back end I went to blog > post and clicked add post in the top right corner, this then brough up a form where I filled in all the relevant and require information and set the post as | I expected that once a post has been writen and set as published that it will appear on the blog page allowing user to select the post to read | As ecxpected the blog post showed up once it was set as published. | x |